

The Bard's Lament.

N 25 In the H. S. of London's Mts.

N 59.

Variation.*

te. The variation does not perfectly agree with the air. This is the only Pibroch in which there appeared the least un-air-labity in Mr. Mac Arthur's recollection, in all the others there was not the change of a single note in repeatedly whistling them, & very seldom ever in the time of the dotted crotchets. As it is the foundation of a good Pibroch John Mac Gregor was desirous to have it which, in some circumstances would admit of. A. Robert.
